Pastor Lisa

Dear Friends in Christ,

You'll have to forgive me if I've written something similar before, but at the end of every June my mind can't help but wander back to June 28, 2014. On that day, I found myself in my home church surrounded by friends, family, fellow clergy, and some of you! It was my ordination day. A day that, ten years prior, I honestly never thought would happen because I thought maybe God was taking me another way. But, God works in funny ways sometimes!

Well, it's been five years since then, and God is still doing funny and surprising things! And for all God has brought us through in these five years, I am grateful. Every congregation has its ups and downs, its struggles and its joys. It is by God's grace and care that we worship, fellowship, grow, and learn together. Has everything we've tried to do together always been perfect? No. Do I fall short and make mistakes sometimes? Yes. I guess I see that as how I grow as a pastor, and how we grow as a congregation—as disciples of Christ. By doing, trying, messing up, and doing lots of things well while learning from mistakes and owning up to them. Doing all of that, while knowing God's hand is in all that we do.

My prayer for this ministry we do together, my prayer for all of you, over the last five years has been that we continue to go wherever God leads us. That every time we leave this church, we can take a bit of God's Word and grace with us and integrate it into our lives. I see a lot of that happening. I see that kind of discipleship growing here, and for that I too am grateful. Grateful to God, and grateful to each one of you and your dedication to our life as servants of God in our communities.
